

The Big Bad Wolf & The 7 Cyber Goats

A magical tale about staying safe online!

Life in the Digital Forest is full of fun and learning

Goats love drawing & creating!

They share happy stories!

And solve puzzles together!

Once upon a time, seven little goats lived with their Mama. They loved using their tablets to play games, learn new things, and watch fun videos together!

A warning about the sneaky digital wolf

“Be careful, my little ones! warned Mama. The Big Bad Wolf is sneaking around the internet today.” “He might try to send fake messages, pretend to be someone else, or lock your tablets.”

Use the Magic Lock to keep your tablet safe

Key 1: Password

Key 2: Magic Code

Before I go, remember to use your Magic Lock!

The Rule of Two Keys: MFA (Multi-Factor Authentication) is like a treasure chest that needs TWO keys to open. Even if the sneaky wolf steals one key, he still cannot get inside!

“As soon as Mama left,
the Wolf sent his first trick!”

“It looked so yummy...
but wait!”

Smart goats always stop and think before they click

Every click counts: Be a cyber hero!

They closed the window, and the Wolf's first trick completely failed!

A fake message disguised as a familiar face

Frustrated, the Wolf sent an email pretending to be Mama. He wanted the little goats to download his bad file!

Look closely for the secret family code

The kids noticed the email was missing the secret code Mama ALWAYS uses.

“Go away, bad wolf!” they shouted, easily avoiding the phishing scam.

The wolf tries to trick them over the phone

Ring, ring! A very polite voice said,
Hello children, this is your teacher.
I need your tablet passwords for a school project!

The voice sounded nice, but asking for passwords is very dangerous.

Never share your magic keys with a stranger

The smallest goat spoke up: If you are our teacher, what is the secret classroom word? The wolf didn't know it and hung up! Bad wolves beware: Heroes are prepared!

A poisoned cartoon freezes the tablets

Losing his patience, the Wolf disguised a nasty computer bug as a new cartoon episode.

Six little goats downloaded it, and their tablets froze solid!

The magic time machine saves the day

The seventh goat knew exactly what to do. They used Mama's Magic Backup!

A backup is like a time machine. It turns everything back to normal!

Stay cyber-smart,
outsmart the bad wolf!

The defeated wolf runs away

The Big Bad Wolf realized he could not beat these brave little goats. They knew all the rules, and they had the power of knowledge! He packed up his tricks and ran away forever.

Knowledge is the best protection of all

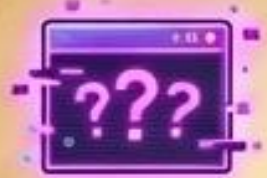

Mama Goat came home and hugged her little heroes.

“I am so proud of your bravery and smarts! You used your brains to stay safe.”
